BIG MEETING OF SCIENCE UNDERGRADS

New Officers Installed at Semi-
Annual Meeting

LAST NIGHT

Business Discussed and Reports
of Retiring Executive Read

The second of the semi-annual meetings of the Science Undergrad Society was held in the Engineering Building last evening. The main business of the Society was to install the new officers for the coming year.
These officers were elected on Monday last.

President "Wally" Mitchell who was in the chair opened the meeting by requesting L. Almond, in the absence of MacNaughton to read the secretary's report of the last semi-annual meeting. Succeeding this Selby Cope treasurer of the previous year, read the report of the funds spent. In closing this Cope said that, although some heavy extra expenses
had been contracted during the past year, the Society still read a fair balance. He also added that the detailed accounts of the expenditures were open to any Undergrad who would care to see them.

The president then made a few remarks on the work that the Society has been carrying on. In reviewing the past session he said that the Faculty of Science have easily held their own with the other Faculties of the college. They have done very well in the athletic events and succeeded in winning the Interfaculty debates from such worthy opponents
as Arts and Theology. He then read the list of officers who were elected for the coming year. They are as follows.

President Clem Anson
Vice-President Merrill
Secretary Almond
Treasurer Mace
Ass-Secretary Kerr
Reporter Frith

The president next asked to Anson his successor to take the chair, and the business of the meeting was carried on.

Anson made a few remarks on the coming elections, emphasizing their importance and urging every Science Undergrad to vote on the 13th. The matter of electing a football manager and assistant manager for 1924
were next brought up. Willard Nyle, H. Williams were nominated for

ELECTRICALS TO BANQUET MAR. 19

Julian C. Smith to Speak—
Final Event of Year

On the evening of Wednesday,
March 19, the McGill Electrical Club intend to hold their last big event of the season. It is to be the Annual Banquet at the Queen's Hotel.

The men who were at the banquet
last year are all very much in favor of a similar event this year and the men of the fourth year especially desire the banquet, for to them it is a sort of termination of four years of intimate acquaintance with the other electricals. Altogether there is plenty of enthusiasm in both the third and fourth years and a large turnout is expected.

While the programme is by no means complete the committee are hard at work obtaining pieces and arranging for entertainment.

The guest of honor and speaker of the evening is to be Mr. Julian C.
Smith of the Shawinigan Power Company. In Electrical circles Mr. Smith is well known as head of one of the largest power developments in the province of Quebec and the men consider it a great honor to have him be their guest.

As stated above the banquet will be held at the "Queen's." Tickets will be put on sale in a day or two at $2.00 each.

NEBRASKA

Gold shoes for the men who have won their track letters for the last season have arrived and will be presented at the next award day, according to announcement. These gold shoe charms are symbols of the Mis-sour Valley championship for 1923,
the third successive year the Cornhuskers have won the highest honors on the clinger path.

NURSES WILL HONOUR LATE DR. GARROW

R. V. H. Class of 1924 Found
Scholarships

AT GRADUATION

Will be Used in School for Graduate Nurses

At the graduation exercises held yesterday afternoon in the Royal Victoria Hospital, the class of 1924 decided to found a scholarship in memory of the late Dr. Alexander Garrow.

Dr. Garrow was held in the highest esteem by all nurses who overcame in contact with him, he was ever an inspiration to them in the carrying out of their duties and since his death in the early part of November his loss has been keenly felt at the hospital. Accordingly the graduating nurses felt that they could do nothing better as a means of perpetuating the name of the 1924 class than to honour the memory of his name.

The scholarship, for which ten thousand dollars will be subscribed, will be of the annual value of six hundred dollars, and it is to be competed for by any graduate nurse of the Royal Victoria Hospital. It will entitle the winner to take the course in the school for Graduate Nurses
at McGill and is therefore something which will serve a good purpose. The conditions for winning this scholarship have as yet not been decided upon, it only having been decided to found the scholarship at yesterday's graduation.

Upon the decision to found this scholarship the sum of one hundred dollars was immediately subscribed and it is thought that there will be no difficulty in securing funds for the full amount. One of the former graduating classes undertook to endow a room in the Ross Memorial Pavilion for the use of the nurses
and at the graduation two five dollar bills started the subscription fund and it was not long before the money to the full amount had been subscribed, therefore it is thought that this year's class can repeat the performance of their predecessors.
Anyone who is interested is invited to subscribe.

LABOUR WAS PREFERRED BY LINCOLN

Thought Capital Much Less Important

"FATHER ABRAHAM"

Lecture Yesterday by Prof.
Basil Williams

That Abraham Lincoln believed labour to be superior to capital, and deserving of more consideration, was one of the many striking statements made yesterday afternoon by Professor Basil Williams. In the final lecture of a series of three which he delivered in the Convocation Hall of the R.V.C. "Abraham Lincoln" was the topic of his talk. Professor Williams' lecture consisted of an historic summary of the period between the presidency of Jackson and that of Lincoln, and a statement of some of his outstanding accomplishments. A few members of the Glee Club, with Mr.
Key at the piano, rendered several verses of one of the songs of the time, during the course of the lecture.

During the quarter of a century between Jackson and Lincoln, the United States was suffering from nightmare, according to Prof. Williams. Distractions were very much sought after; trouble with Mexico, and altercations with England were considered very welcome. It was the age of the well named "Know Nothing Party," and of compromises. It was likewise the period of mediocre presidents.

The magnitude of the difficulties with which Lincoln had to deal when he assumed power was stressed by the lecturer. The development in the cotton industry had put an altogether new phase on the matter of slaves and slave trade. New slaves
At one time, the South, though outnumbered in the House of Representatives managed to get a majority in the more important house, the Senate.

The movement to abolish the slave trade which started in the North, was at first just as unpopular in that section of the country as it was in the South, the speaker pointed out. In addition the South constantly sought further protection for their interests.
Clay, well known as The Comprom-iser, found himself very busy at this period.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was the most influential piece of propaganda writ-

HAZING AT MCGILL TO BE MODIFIED

Arts '27 Hold Heated Meeting
Yesterday

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Arts '27 was held yesterday at one o'clock, at which it was decided to continue hazing, but in a much milder form.

This meeting was one of the best which Arts '27 has held this year. A large number of freshmen was present, and several important pieces of business were brought up, of which by far the chief was the much debated question of hazing. Sir Arthur has repeatedly expressed his disapproval of this method of welcoming freshmen, which is so prevalent at McGill, and certain members of the class of Arts '27 were hoping to establish a precedent this year by abolishing hazing altogether. There were two motions brought forward; one, to do away with hazing entirely; and two, to confine it to one day only.
Much heated discussion was aroused in which the upholders of the first motion pointed out that unless hazing was entirely abolished it would revert to the same condition as that experienced in past years. The adherents of the second suggestion maintained, that they themselves had been forced to undergo several weeks of preliminary disciplining upon entering McGill, and they thought that the freshmen of next year should enjoy the privilege of being welcomed in much the same warm manner.

A decision was finally reached, after taking a vote in which the up-holders of the latter motion won by a small majority. The hazing of the next college year will consist of the wearing of the red and white rout-ers' cap for a certain period by the freshmen, and an organized rush by the Sophomores on one day, only,
say on sports day, but except for this,
the freshmen will not be troubled at all.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1924.

THE STUDENT AND ENGLISH.

Often-times we, with our human failings and foibles, tend to neglect those things which are the very fundamentals, and, chasing after beautiful will-o'-the-wisps, splash into some figurative quagmire, with its clammy and deadly filth to drag us down. We gaze at those dim things which are far away, and absolutely fail to perceive those things which are near at hand. No truer and more forcible example of this can be taken than the deplorable attitude of many students toward their mother tongue. Our language is ever with us, save in moments of sound sleep, for we must talk and we must write in order to conduct even the ordinary business of our daily life. But to what a horrible extent the English language is abused! How we mangle it, twist it, tear it, drag it down and maltreat it, so that by the time we finish, it scarcely can be recognized even by its most intimate friends. There are students at McGill to-day who know not how to spell even the simplest of words; who fail to understand even the elements of grammatical construction; and who have only the slightest knowledge of English literature, with its great masterpieces of poetry and prose. The written efforts of these young men and women are all too often unworthy of a youngster in the lower grades of a public school, and, if he were accused of the authorship, would make him blush for very shame. Yet undergraduates such as these fondly nurse the hope that some day they will leave McGill's portals as graduates to go out and take their places in the world. May all the gods be thanked that some of these dreams will never be fulfilled because one who cannot speak nor write at least fairly good English is unworthy of the title of "graduate," for he, in all likelihood, will bring disgrace, rather than honour, upon his Alma Mater. The public expects, and has a perfect right to expect, a college man to use good English, and if this expectation is not realized, the worldly wise shrug their shoulders, while whispering that something is rotten in the state of Denmark. And it must be admitted candidly, that all is not well to-day. Graduates from universities are to be found in every activity, and though most of them are above reproach, there are some who display rank ignorance in speech and on paper. Of course, if the public schools were even nearly perfect, this type of student would never see the inside of a university, except as a member of a party of sight-seers. But he is here, in Science, in Medicine, in Dentistry, in Commerce, in Law and in Arts. He abuses English in the very refuge of learning, and, neglecting to pay attention to this extremely fundamental subject, he will probably continue this abuse to the very end of his days. If he succeeds in his big bluff he will go out as a poor ambassador of a great University. If not, he either must turn his attention towards self-improvement or must die a timely death, slaughtered by his professors. The jury promises, on oath, to return a verdict of justifiable homicide.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

The success of the Alma Mater dance, which is being held a week from to-night, is already assured, for over one hundred and fifty tickets were sold yesterday afternoon and evening. The committee in charge is making elaborate preparations for decorations, for music, for programs, and for refreshments, and nothing will be left undone to make the final social event of the season surpass all those which have gone before.

The plan of this year's graduating class from the Royal Victoria Hospital for the establishment of a scholarship to commemorate the memory of the late Dr. Garrow, is one which is worthy of the highest commendation. This famous surgeon did much for the cause of medicine and for McGill and it is fitting that his name should be perpetuated by an endowment to send nurses to study at this University.

CENSUS OF VILLAGE CATS MADE BY BABES
A census of the village cats has just been completed by the freshmen class of Chohan College, a Baptist Institution. The taking of the feline census was the last stunt imposed upon the freshmen by the second-year students. The freshmen discovered that there were 170 cats in the village varying in age from 3 months to 5 years. Fifty-two black cats answered to the name of "Tom."

SCHOLARSHIP GOES TO TORONTO GIRL

Fellowship Offered by Dominion Federation of University Women

"The announcement has been made by Mrs. Douglas Thom, of Regina, chairman of the Dominion scholarship committee, that Miss Dorothea Sharpe M.A. of 380 Brunswick Ave., Toronto, has been chosen as the winner of the Dominion Federation of Women's travelling fellowship for the academic year 1924-25.

A dozen women made application for the fellowship, three of whom, including Miss Sharp, have already spent one year in European Universities. It is hoped that the year for which the scholarship provides will admit of completing the course of study required for a degree from the university chosen by the winner. Associated with Mrs. Thom, of Regina, on the committee in charge of making the selection, were Miss Cartwright, St. Hilda's College Toronto; Mrs. W. L. Grant, Upper Canada College, Toronto; Miss E. M. Dall, Ottawa Ladies' College; Miss Elizabeth Colwell, Kelvin High School, Winnipeg; Mrs. F. H. Pilcher, Montreal; and Mrs. H. E. Young, Victoria.

The applicants for the scholarship were from Vancouver, Edmonton, Brandon, Winnipeg, Toronto and Wolfville, with one from Oxford, from a former Toronto girl. In 1921, the scholarship was won by Miss Isobel Jones, then on the staff of the University of Saskatchewan. Miss Dixie Pelletier, of Edmonton, and Miss Margaret Cameron, Montreal, were more recent winners.

Miss Dorothea Sharp won the award by a substantial margin of preference on the part of the committee members, each of whom sent her vote together with her reasons for the order of the names on her list of choices.

Miss Sharp graduated from the University of Toronto in 1915, and in 1921 received her M.A. degree in philosophy. She has had experience in teaching in public and high schools and is now a lecturer at the University of Toronto.

Professor W. S. Milne, in speaking of Miss Sharp, stated that she is a gifted woman, and that she has once or twice come across her equal in scholarship, but never in philosophical power. He adds that many years go by in filling Rhodes scholarships without such a candidate presenting herself. Sir Bertram Windle writes that during forty years of teaching

SCIENCE SENIORS TO MEET FRESHMEN

Inter-Class Hockey Championship in Balance

The curtain will be rung down on the Inter-Class Hockey League when Science '24 and Science '25 clash in the final game for the championship. Both these teams have gone through the regular series undefeated and when they take the ice to battle for the right to hold the Capper trophy, considerable fireworks are expected.

The Science seniors present a formidable line-up consisting mainly of men who played on last year's championship Inter-Faculty team. Allan McCall in goal is a regular wizard at picking them off and it is largely due to his remarkable work that his team have come along so well. Finley and McGillis pair as a strong defence in front of him and both are effective at rushing. Cave at centre is supported on the wings by MacDonald and Lanctot complete the regular line-up. Gillett and Fairbairn work as subs.

The freshmen who will oppose them in the final struggle have a very strong team also. Heney, the regular net minder, has turned in a steady game all season and should prove a stumbling block for the hard shooting senior forwards. Goldie and Stewart have been very effective on the defence, their consistent blocking and rushing being very much in evidence. Slatery at centre has proved the leading goal getter on the team and it's a pretty tough game that "Slats" doesn't hang up one or two. Coleman and Durlay work on the wings and complete a fast skating forward line. Smith and Moore are the relief men.

A big crowd is expected out when the game comes off, especially from the Science faculty as which ever way the result goes a Science team gains the championship. Poor weather conditions have been holding the match up but with a drop of the thermometer the boys will be away.

R.V.C. DISCUSS THEATRE PLANS

Miss Massy Bayly Resigns from Committee

At a meeting of the R. V. C. Undergraduate Society which was held on Thursday several matters in connection with Theatre Night were decided. A letter was read from Miss Massy Bayly, tendering her resignation from the R. V. C. Theatre Night committee, as she felt unable to continue this work. Miss Esther England was elected to take her place. Miss J. Robins was elected as producer of the R. V. C. skit, and Miss E. Busken was appointed as a fourth member on the committee.

A letter from Mrs. Vaughan soliciting the support of R. V. C. for the Crosby Hall fund was read. This fund is being raised by the Federation of University Women to establish an international club for university women in the heart of the British Empire, and Canada has pledged the amount of $5,000 to it. It was decided that each class should contribute from its fees in proportion to its membership, the minimum being ten dollars.

The president thanked Miss Massy Bayly and Miss Gurd on behalf of the Delta Sigma Society and of the R. V. C. Undergraduate Society for their splendid work in connection with the Women's Interscholastic Debate at Kingston, and small silver cups were presented to them as trophies.

NO ARGUING TASTES

About in the same class with that conception of criticism which attacks the campus opinion magazine of the University with inconsistency because its prints a communication on one side of a question one day and on the other the next, is the attempted condemnation of a paper for what one of its critics thinks of a concert, a play? or a book. It reveals the astounding ignorance and narrow-mindedness of a part of the public which reads the newspapers daily. Fortunately it is a small part.

A man whose wisdom will be known for centuries said as long ago: "There is no arguing about tastes." What is one man's food to another man's poison, is another version of the old truth. The press, called upon to give some kind of a criticism on works where taste is the primary judge, has realized that it can not attempt to give its readers anything more than one man's opinion as to whether a work of this artistic sort is good or bad. It has never attempted anything more and has never printed its criticisms as anything more than the personal likes and dislikes of its critic. The paper picks a man of the very highest qualifications and its responsibility ends there. It publishes what he says in connection with his name or initials for what it is worth, and the great majority of the reading public realizes this and appreciates the truth & the classical epigram regarding

MINNESOTA

One hundred sixty-eight students in the literary college will be asked to leave school immediately on account of poor scholarship. It was decided at a meeting of the administrative board of the college. This is seven less than at the end of the first semester last year, when 175 students were asked to leave.

NORTH DAKOTA

Fraternities and sororities of the University of North Dakota are thinking seriously of cutting out the formal parties planned for the remainder of the university social season and substituting informals in their place. Advocates of the plan point to the great expense and elaborate planning in preparation for and putting over these parties and it is their belief that with times as hard as they are over the state it is not good practice to give the state's taxpayers any cause for criticism on their foolish expenditures. An active stand will be taken within the next week by the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity bodies, according to The Student.

STANFORD U.

Stanford University has established a yell-leading course. This course is open to sophomores only and may be taken by them for physical education credit. A course of lectures will be given including bleacher psychology, the correct use of the voice, bleacher singing, what the coach expects from the yell leader. Experience is not necessary for enrollment in this class. Examinations will be given over the lectures and every phase of the subject will be taken up and discussed thoroughly. The members of the class will have an opportunity to try out before the bleachers at the preliminary basketball games.

(Continued from Page 1.) ten at the time, in the opinion of the speaker. This book was published in 1852. Squatter sovereignty by virtue of which the settlers of each state decided whether or not they were to have slaves, was briefly described by Prof. Williams.

The Tom Brown incident, as well as the rise of the new Republican party, which declared slavery to be contrary to the rights of man, were touched upon at some length. With the rise of this party the South became alarmed and began to think of methods for safeguarding their interests.

The early life of Lincoln resembles in some ways that of Jackson. The brief sketch of his youth given by the speaker, revealed the fact that Lincoln displayed considerable mental superiority over his immediate associates. At the age of 23 he stood unsuccessfully for a seat in the state legislature. Later he was elected to such a position. He afterwards became a member of Congress.

Until he came to the White House Lincoln was better known as a country lawyer than as a politician. He would not undertake a case if he knew his client to be in the wrong. His popularity was in a great part due to the fact that he possessed considerable ability for telling interesting anecdotes.

Hopeless issues were at stake when Lincoln came into power. Clear thinking was absolutely essential at the time. The president did not reach his decisions voraciously, but meditated very deeply before making any announcement. He was honest in expression of opinion, caring nothing for the consequences.

Prof. Williams quoted part of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate, saying that much that Lincoln had said in this famous battle of words had contributed to his fame. Lincoln was elected president over many able men, because he had conclusively proved to the electors of the time "that a house divided against itself could not stand."

He did not tackle the problem of slavery, which confronted him, immediately, but waited two years, since he believed that it would wilt away of itself. Lincoln thought only of the preservation of the Union at the time.

He never allowed small considerations to influence him, and always spoke to the people as man to man. He became known as "Father Abraham." At this point in the lecture, the Glee Club rendered a song, illustrative of the respect Lincoln enjoyed.

A reading of Walt Whitman's "Captain my Captain," formed the conclusion of the address.

This being leap year, the question is "Where's the man?"

MEN ALL SET FOR BIG GYM COMPETITION

Gill Cannot Compete Owing to Injury

M. S. P. E. TO PERFORM

Varsity Bringing Down Strong Team

The McGill gymnastic team are all set for the competition with Varsity which takes place tomorrow evening in the Central Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp.

The men have been practicing faithfully three times a week since last October and as a result have developed a knack of handling themselves on the various apparatus that would do justice to any professional acrobat.

Great credit is due the coach Mr. Findlay for his tireless efforts in teaching his competitors their different movements. Mr. Findlay has given a great deal of time to the gymnastic club and any glory which they may gain or have gained for themselves should also be shared by him.

The Red and White will have representing them three of last year's team, all of them dependable men, they are Consiglio, Delahay and McKyes. Besides the three mentioned there are several new men on this year's team. Ambrose, who comes from R.M.C. made a splendid showing when he won the senior medal for all round competition. Bremner, a sophomore and Becker, also a sophomore and who will act as a spare complete the team. Bladen would have been the team spare but he, unfortunately, is suffering from an injury received during a practice so his place will be taken by Becker.

The team has suffered a great loss through the injury of Gill who was reputed to be one of the best gymnasts in the college, however he will in all probability be out next year and will have the opportunity of demonstrating his skill.

While the championship has been won without great difficulty the last two years, the Red and White will be obliged to call in all their reserve force, to retain the title this year Varsity are reported to be bringing down a strong aggregation. Their foremost man is Mix, Captain of last year's team, who did well last summer in the Canadian gymnastic championships. Parker, of the 1922 team and Chorolsky of last year's team will also be hard men to outdo.

The competition will consist of apparatus work only, that is the high-bar, horse, parallel bars and mats. It has been announced that the programme will follow along lines somewhat different to those of the competitions of former years, when both voluntary and set movements have been included. In set movements all the men on the teams must go through them and as this takes a great deal of time it naturally becomes tiresome to watch. It has therefore been decided to eliminate the set movements, and to have each competitor do two movements on each apparatus, each competitor will therefore show something different and the meet will thus take much less time.

As a divertissement there will be a comedy feature presented by Wilfred Werry, a Commerce graduate and one of the former instructors, who will burlesque the meet.

In between each event the girls of the McGill School of Physical Education will present dances and demonstrate the work they do. As the Physical Ed. girls do not put on an annual exhibition this will afford the public an opportunity to see what they can do and this in itself will be well worth coming to see. Their work is supervised by Miss E. M. Cartwright, Miss Harvey and Miss Wain. The music for the dances will be provided by Miss Christie.

The Gymnastics Club are greatly indebted to Bobby Burland, who has kindly offered to have his orchestra on hand at the competition to play during the intermissions.

Those who will officiate at the meet are: Master of Ceremonies, Dr. Lamb; Judges: C. B. Powter, T. H. Miltner and S. Chad. Timekeeper, Mr. Van Wagner. The chief scorer will be Mr. G. A. Holland, who for three years in succession won the Wicksteed medal. Dr. Harvey will also be in attendance.

While the individual numbers of this competition will be short the programme as a whole will be quite long and it is therefore necessary that it start sharp on time. The spectators are advised to be in their seats at the opening as the first event, which is the Horizontal bar is the most difficult to perform and the most spectacular to watch. It is necessary that this event be put on first as the performer must be fresh in order to do the thrilling turns.

To aid the spectator to follow the results of the meet, as each event comes off, score sheets will be sold at—Michigan Daily, the door.

McGILL'S ATHLETIC RECORD

Possibly no more fascinating study than the doping out of possible winners in an athletic contest based upon a review of past records and present form. Of course, a real enthusiast will put the game itself before the result; but certainly the supporter of a winning team has a most satisfying glow within himself after the contest, a feeling of pleasure not enjoyed by the loser's side, no matter how glorious the team has been in defeat. It is understood that the natural premise for that statement is that both sides have fought cleanly and fairly.

RUGBY

The score sheet of Rugby Football championships in the Intercollegiate Union dates back to 1898 when Toronto claimed its first victory. McGill seems to have been slow in starting, as it was four years later before the Red and White won rugby laurels, and another four years passed before that victory was repeated. A glance down the list shows that Toronto has been on the heavy end of the score more often than all her opponents. Queen's had a long period of eighteen years in the wilderness but has returned to glory with sufficient strength to attract Dominion-wide attention. Throughout all the years, however, only once has any university won the title for more than two successive years. Toronto retained her supremacy from 1908 to 1911 inclusive.

Will Queen's be able to retain the championship next year? What are McGill's chances for it?

One day last fall as the Tiger football team passed along St. Catherine Street in its big autobus after defeating the M.A.A.A., a chap remarked "Why in thunder McGill is playing an exhibition game with the Tigers, no one can understand. Why the Tigers will kill the boys!" They certainly did look a battle-scarred crew as they went by in the bus. Several days later, the Red and White squad made the heavier Tiger line break like cardboard in spots, and won the first victory in two years. The team was playing as it had not played for two years. Later in Toronto, by sheer aggressiveness, the final game of the season was won by the Red and White in the first quarter, and retained in the remaining periods by a display of good rugby.

A rugby player on the field is acclaimed by all, and his work praised. The chap who swooned away the previous March and April to pass his examinations so that he could play rugby very seldom is remembered.

With similar training as this past fall, and with no losses due to failure in academic standing, the McGill senior rugby team will be well worth watching next October. Rugby winners follow:

MUSICAL CLUB HELD INFORMAL MEETING

Hurd, Woolley, Hart, Shepherd and Malone Rendered Selections

A programme consisting entirely of selections by members, marked the second meeting of the Musical Club that was held in the Union last night. The programme began with two piano solos by Warren Hurd. He played "Romance" by Sibelius, and "Gavotte" in G Minor by Bach. This was followed by two violin solos by Grange Woolley. They were "Cavatina" by Raff, and the Adagio movement of the "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven.

Next Lawrence Hart played two piano solos, delighting his audience with an admirable presentation of the Prelude in D Flat, and Cyril Scott's "Lotus Land."

An artistic interpretation of a Minuet and Gavotte by Saint Saens, a piece for two pianos was given by W. Shepherd and W. P. Malone. By special request Grange Woolley played "Bourree" by Handel. The programme was brought to a close with a piano solo by Willis Malone, in which he rendered Schumann's Novelette in F.

The meeting was a very informal one, and was presided over by the president, Willis Malone.

MANY GATHER TO EAT AND LISTEN TO RADIO

Last night, between the hours of ten and twelve p.m., upwards of a hundred and fifty students availed themselves of the opportunity to consume food and listen to the radio in the Union Cafeteria.

The men in charge of the apparatus had it chirping away merrily, and those who dropped in enjoyed a pleasant hour or so. The music that was being received was from both outside and local stations, and came in very clearly.

There are two strange animals running about the campus. One of them is labeled "Activities" and the other "Scholarship." To a privileged few these feared beasts come to feed from their hands, but to the multitude, the hot-poll-avast! On with the dance. While the many dance, the few will work. Poor fools, say the many.

The class president is always the man, the vice-president a woman. We see no vital, menacing wrong in this fact. Women of a co-educational institution are not downtrodden. If they are not aggressive or interested in them, this is not the fault of co-education.

REHEARSALS FOR BIG SHOW START

Orchestra and Casts Being Thoroughly Drilled

Preparations for Theatre Night are well afoot, and the few indications we have had so far bode well for an unqualified success. The promoters of the various skits in each faculty are working hard to find the "pieces" for their dramatists which will produce the best possible effect in the short fifteen minutes allowed to each skit.

The orchestra is being whipped into shape by its able director "Al" Farrell, who played in last year's orchestra. The only other members of the musicians, who contributed so greatly to last year's success, is Wally Malone, who is again at the piano. There are a good many new men who are all showing good form, and so far the orchestra consists of thirteen or fourteen pieces. But new men are needed, and all those interested are asked to turn out for the next practice, for it is very necessary to have a full and well-balanced orchestra.

Practises for the casts have begun. Yesterday afternoon the Science and Commerce artists were reigning supreme in the Union Ballroom, and show promise of great things on the evenings of the 28th and 29th. For great progress has already been made. A few alterations were made yesterday in the Commerce cast, the second part being revolutionized and done in an entirely different way from that which was at first planned.

Many vague rumors as to the subjects of the casts are flying about the campus, but it is authoritatively known that the Meds. are giving a startling expose of the drug traffic, and that the Commercials are parodying Shakespeare.

There was considerable apprehension last year as to whether the undertaking of such a task as staging a Theatre Night would be practicable, but even the most pessimistic were carried away by the real success gained by our amateur players. This year bids fair for a repetition of last year's success; but to make it so all those taking part are urged to attend the practices which will be scheduled from time to time in these columns. The following are the practices to be held tomorrow, March 8th:—

M. S. P. E.—2.00 p.m.
R. V. C.—2.30 p.m.
Commerce—3.00 p.m.
Science—3.30 p.m.
Medicine—4.00 p.m.
Law—4.30 p.m.
Arts—5.00 p.m.

DOCTOR S. FORTIER REPRESENTS MCGILL

University of California Installs New President

At the inauguration of Dr. Wallace Campbell as President of the University of California in Berkeley for 1924, a request was sent to the McGill University for a representative in the inauguration proceedings.

In answer to this request Dr. S. Fortier, who graduated here in 1885 was delegated as McGill's representative.

Dr. S. Fortier, son of Leandre and Ami Ried Fortier was born at Leeds in the Province of Quebec, Canada, on April the 24th, 1885.

After taking a Common School Education at a little log house in that country he became employed as a log brakeman and river driver for a lumbering firm, where he remained for three years. With his accumulated wages he put himself through the McGill Normal School, and on completing this course he was engaged as principal of the Danville Academy, Quebec, where he remained for two years. He then entered the McGill Civil Engineering Course, and was graduated in the year 1885.

In 1891 he became Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the Bear River Canal Ogden Water Works. In 1893 he held the chair of Civil and Hydraulic Engineering and Irrigation Engineering of experiment station at the Agriculture College of Utah.

In 1899 he became irrigation engineer of the Montana Agriculture Experiment station, as well as director of the same station. He resigned this post in 1901, and three years later took charge of the State and Federal cooperative irrigation investigations in California, here he worked his way up steadily, and today is the senior irrigation engineer and chief of the irrigation investments in the United States Department of Agriculture, as well as honorary member of the American Society of Agriculture, in recognition of his invaluable service in promoting the reclamations of arid lands by means of irrigation.

This nation and particularly the States of the West owe Dr. Fortier debt that can never be paid, for the invaluable work he has done in developing the land and water resources of the west, and there is no doubt but that he will fulfill all requirements as the representative of McGill.

Sale Yesterday Was Very Brisk

As early as half past ten yesterday morning several students were seen wandering anxiously in the neighborhood of the Tucke Shoppe awaiting the opening of the sale of tickets for the Alma Mater Dance. By eleven o'clock, several men occupied chairs in the main lobby of the Union and by noon, access to that building was a matter of considerable difficulty, the eager crowd pressing as far back as the front door. The sale proceeded rapidly, practically all the tickets being disposed of shortly after the hour appointed for the opening of the sale. Very few of the coveted pastebords are left, these are now being sold at the Tucke Shoppe.

The general scheme of decorations has been announced. The Ball room will be decorated along Japanese lines while Hawaiian style will prevail on the lower floor which will also be employed for the dance. The work of decorating is already being carried out, and at the rate it is proceeding, it should be completed in the next few days. "Nothing is being spared to make this affair a real success," said a prominent member of the Students' Council yesterday afternoon. "This is the last opportunity the student will have of dancing at the Union this year, and we fully intend that it will be one that he will long remember," said another member of the council.

The decoration scheme has been placed in the hands of Gordie Hughes and Blake Wilson. The services of Adney's and Cloutier's orchestras have been secured for the occasion.

Supper will be served in two sittings and will be catered for by Pierre of the Union Cafeteria. Mr. Charles Honneger, manager of the cafeteria has promised that his part in the matter will be well looked after.

DISPLAY OF FOOD AT THE CENTRAL "Y"

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of Next Week

"Food Factors Vital to Health," is the subject upon which Dr. George Fisk will speak at the Central Y. M. C. A., Drummond street, on Thursday, March 13th, at 8.15 p. m. according to an announcement made by Sydney Chard, Director of the Department of Physical Education of the "Y".

On the three days preceding this lecture, a "Food Display" will be held in the main lobby of the Y.M.C.A. The form of the display will be such as to enable anyone to see the food which are essential to good health. It was pointed out by Mr. Chard.

The Y.M.C.A. authorities feel that the exhibition and lecture will be of particular interest to students. "It will give them an opportunity to see and hear about the materials which are so essential to good health," said the director. "It is with this purpose in view that the display and lecture has been arranged. We expect that a large number of McGill men will avail themselves of this opportunity to become acquainted with the manner in which correct eatables contribute to a good state of health," declared another official.

WEST INDIAN COLLEGE MAY BE FOUNDED SOON

It was agreed that all sections of the people should be asked to support the appeal to the Secretary of State in favor of founding a West Indian University at Jamaica at a public meeting organized by University men at Kingston, Jamaica, on March 5th.

It was proposed to solicit Imperial assistance for the scheme, which provides for the setting up of an examining body in the West Indies at Codrington College, Barbados, and also one at the Agricultural College of Trinidad, which would be branches of

FELL THIRTY FEET INJURY IS SLIGHT

Adolph Pizzaro Slipped From Roof of Arts Building

Shortly before three o'clock yesterday afternoon, one of the men engaged to remove the snow from the roof of the Arts Building lost his footing and fell thirty feet to a landing, from which he was taken up unconscious. The roofer, whose name is Adolph Pizzaro, is a man of about twenty-five years of age, and is unmarried. He has been engaged in similar work around the university for some time. He was admitted to the Royal Victoria Hospital, but after being bandaged was able to go home.

Pizzaro and another man were working on the part of the roof which is at the north-west corner of the Arts building, where the water from the rapidly-melting snow had found a vulnerable point in the structure and was leaking into the building. After having removed the greater part of the snow from one section they proceeded to apply some tarpaper to the damaged part. It was while they were thus occupied that the victim lost his footing and, before his companion had any opportunity to catch him, he disappeared over the edge of the roof. He took a straight fall of thirty feet to the galvanized iron roof which covers the washroom of the Arts building, on which he landed head first.

"Bill" Gentleman, the well-known janitor of the building, heard the crash, and rushed to room 113, the windows of which open on the small roof. He, with the assistance of the second roofer, was able to lift the injured man into the room, following which he immediately summoned an ambulance from the Royal Victoria Hospital. The ambulance was delayed in its arrival by the bad condition of the roads, and before it made its appearance Pizzaro had recovered consciousness, and was able to walk downstairs. He was badly cut about the head and neck, however, and presented a sorry spectacle.

On interviewing "Bill," it was discovered that Pizzaro and his associate were one of the two gangs of workmen who have been engaged for some time in clearing the snow off the roofs of the various buildings. The other gang has been employed only on the sloping roofs, while the pair which includes the injured man works on the flat roofs. The men employed on the sloping roofs have the advantage of being tied by a rope in case of accident, while Pizzaro was unprotected in any way.

ONE NEWSPAPER IS READ BY ALL

Survey Shows Ohio Students Regular Readers

One-fourth of the students at Ohio State do not read monthly or weekly publications at all, if a survey of 200 students just made by Professor James K. Pollock of the department of political science is representative.

Out of 200 average students in the department of political science, Professor Pollock gathered these statistics for monthlies: All students read at least one newspaper regularly and one-third read two regularly.

Only 34 students out of the 200 read monthly magazines regularly. One half of the students read monthlies occasionally and one-fourth do not read them at all. The Review of Reviews is read most, with eight regular and 58 occasional readers. One-fourth of the students read fictional monthlies like the Red Book and Cosmopolitan.

Only 57 out of 200 read a weekly magazine devoted to current news, like the Independent or the Outlook.

One half of the students read weeklies occasionally and one-fourth not at all. More than 60 read popular fictional weeklies regularly and 91 read them occasionally. The Literary Digest is read regularly by 33 students and occasionally by 82 out of 200.

The 200 students purchase 216 downtown papers a day regularly and 149 occasionally. Only eight students out of the 200 read the New York Times regularly and 31 read it occasionally.

"These figures bring out clearly and strikingly several points," Professor Pollock said. "Newspapers are read by all. Weekly and monthly publications are neglected to a deplorable extent. Popular weeklies are given more time than serious-minded ones."

"The fact that only one-fourth of the students read weeklies and monthlies regularly and that one-fourth do not read them at all should be held up to censure. I endeavor to encourage students to read magazines and newspapers. From the figures I have obtained it appears that I must continue such encouragement," he concluded.—Ohio State Lantern.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO REPEAT PLAYS

Second Performance of Diminutive Dramas March 15

The Diminutive Dramas to be presented on Saturday, March 8th, at 8.30, in the R.V.C. Convocation Hall by the McGill Alumnae Society, are proving a great attraction; so much so that the demand for tickets cannot be satisfied, and in order that those who have been unable to obtain tickets may have an opportunity of seeing the plays, a second production will be given in the Convocation Hall on Saturday, March 15th, at 8.30 p.m.

Tickets ($1.00, tax included) for the second performance may be obtained from Miss May Ilder, 363 University St., Plateau 4498, from the Secretary of the Royal Victoria College, and at the Redpath Library.
